

Outdoor Community Cat Programs

Are you seeing out door cats in your neighborhood? We can help! Stanislaus Animal Services Agency Community Cat Program is the humane, effective way to reduce the number of cats living on our streets. Community cats are the unowned stray or feral cats who live outdoors in our neighborhoods.

Stanislaus Animal Services Agency is proud to work with citizens, volunteers, and TNR groups to help control the community cat population through spay and neuter. Cats in the Stanislaus Community Cat Program receive spay or neuter surgery, left ear tip*, vaccines, wellness exam, and food during their stay. *A left ear tip, indicates a cat has been spayed/neutered and vaccinated.

Solutions to cat-related issues

The value of TNR

Whether you love or loathe community cats, trap/neuter/return (TNR) is the most effective and humane way to effectively reduce the number of community cats and also reduce nuisance behaviors. Male cats are no longer competing for fighting with each other, spraying urine or roaming blocks away from their neighborhood. Females no longer yowl to seek a mate and no longer have kittens, of course. These behaviors are typically reduced immediately and eliminated completely only a month after the surgery. Additionally, TNR provides vaccines, so the cats are healthier and do not pose a threat to public health.
